

International Certificate in Financial English

Course description

Individuals who pass the International Certificate in Financial English (Cambridge ICFE) will be confident using their language skills in a wide-range of accounting and finance contexts. Cambridge Financial English is targeted at students with an FCE/CAE level of English. English is the language of international business and developments such as International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) give finance professionals greater mobility than ever before to pursue international career opportunities.

Who is the course for?

Cambridge ICFE is an ideal qualification for anyone thinking of, or already pursuing, a career in accountancy or finance. If you are considering a career in finance or are studying towards an accounting or finance qualification, then Cambridge ICFE will be a valuable addition to your CV. If you are a finance professional with an already established and successful career, Cambridge ICFE can be used to validate your financial English language skills. Preparing for Cambridge ICFE may also count towards the continuing professional development (CPD) requirements for members of accountancy and finance professional bodies.
